

HELP YOURSELF ONLINE:

Useful, Recommended Websites

There's no substitute for coming to the Writing Center and discussing your work with a friendly, skilled, professional Writing Center tutor –unless you can't! In that case, here are some websites that might help you with questions about grammar, composition, research or citation:

Grammar

- Guide to Grammar and Writing (interactive, comprehensive): <http://grammar.ccc.commnet.edu/grammar>
- Grammar Bytes (fun graphics, interactive) <http://chompchomp.com/>
- Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) (the most comprehensive of all writing websites, though not interactive): <https://owl.english.purdue.edu>
- English Page: <http://www.englishpage.com/>
- Grammar Girl (great discussions of grammar issues): <http://www.quickanddirtytips.com/grammar-girl>
- Grammarly (reader questions and answers): <https://www.grammarly.com>
- Grammar Education Guide from Super Summary (extensive listing of links to other grammar resources) : <http://www.supersummary.com/grammar-guide>

Research, Citation, Works Cited Pages

- LaGuardia Library Website (excellent!): <http://library.laguardia.edu/>
- Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) (the most comprehensive of all writing websites): <https://owl.english.purdue.edu>
